Citrus Community College Project Update

2007 Report to Our Community
by the Measure G Citizens Oversight Committee

To Our Community:

On behalf of the members of the Measure G Citizens Oversight Committee (COC), it is my privilege to welcome you to the third edition of our Annual Report to you, residents and taxpayers of the Citrus Community College District. Our primary responsibility is to monitor Citrus College through funds made available by passage of Measure G in March 2004.

Over the past three and a half years, we have observed first-hand so many exciting improvements to the campus—each with direct benefit for students attending Citrus College. This past year, significant achievements with lasting value were made.

From the time ground was broken in 2006, we have eagerly watched the construction of the Center for Innovation. When completed in early summer 2008, the CFI will foster and develop collaborative, innovative instructional activities for Citrus College students and faculty.

An important step for our students has been taken with the design of a new Student Services Center, which will consolidate much needed student support services into a single, efficient facility.

One of the most significant projects completed this past year is the new Central Plant. Twelve months of work and teaming with Southern California Edison in their Savings by Design Incentive and Peak Management Program has resulted in a state of the art facility that is capable of serving the heating and air conditioning needs of the entire campus—today and into the future. With greater efficiency and reduced operating costs, the Central Plant is an important part of conservation measures at Citrus College and a model for others to follow.

Please review our report for more information about Measure G. Additional and updated information are also available throughout the coming year on the Citrus College website at <http://citruscollege.edu/BondOversightCommittee>.

Committee Bylaws have established one or two-year terms for committee members, with no committee member to serve more than two consecutive terms. In 2007, two of the original Measure G COC members, Phyllis Fritz and Bobbie Wenrick, completed their second terms. We thank them for their enthusiastic participation on the committee and their continued support of Citrus College. And, we welcome new committee members Patricia Myers and Mark Ferrari.

Finally, we wish to commend District leadership and staff for their consistent efforts to maximize Measure G funds. Project costs and schedules are closely monitored and the result is that the improvements promised by Measure G are becoming reality.

Sincerely,

Committee Chair, 2007

Measure G Citizens Oversight Committee Members

As promised to voters and required by law, the Board of Trustees for Citrus College adopted Resolution No. 2003-04-25, establishing the Measure G Citizens Oversight Committee (COC). Community members and students will periodically be given an opportunity to apply to fill seven seats. The laws governing implementation of the COC require five of the seven members be selected to represent one each of the following: A student enrolled and active in a community college group, such as student government; an active member of a business organization representing the business community located in the District; an active member of a senior citizen's organization; a member of a taxpayers association; an active member in a support organization for the college, such as a foundation. The remaining two seats can be appointed as "At-Large" Community Representatives. Members of the COC are appointed for one or two-year terms and may not serve more than two consecutive two-year terms. Members serve without compensation.

Sharon Lewis, Chairwoman, 2004-2006, serving as one of two "At-Large" Community Representatives. Mrs. Lewis has been a resident of the Citrus College District for over 62 years.

David "Dean" Kays, Vice Chairman, 2004-2006, an active member of the Claremont community. Mr. Kays serves as a representative of a senior citizens organization.

William Bird, a 45 year Glendora resident and business owner, represents the local business community.

Mark Ferrari, a business owner and 47 year resident of the San Gabriel Valley, represents the Citrus College Foundation on the COC.

Patricia Myers, 56 year District resident and an active volunteer in her community, is the second "At-Large" Community Representative for the committee.

John Serpa, 26 year resident of the District and past treasurer for Active Claremont, fulfills the requirement as representative for a taxpayers' organization.

Jesus Sanchez, is a current Business Administration student at Citrus College. Appointed in September 2006, he is serving his second one-year term as the student representative on the committee.

COC meetings are scheduled quarterly (four times a year).

Meetings of the COC are open to the public and subject to the Brown Act. The meeting schedule for 2008 is:

The agenda, minutes and all formally received reports for Measure G COC meetings are posted to the website, <http://citruscollege.edu>, Bond Oversight Committee

Year(s) covered by the report

This is the third annual report of the Measure G Citizens Oversight Committee since its formation in August 2004, and covers the period January 1 through December 31, 2007. It is the intent of the COC to issue reports annually.

Statement of purpose/responsibilities of the COC

The Measure G Citizens Oversight Committee, with members representing the various facets of our communities, serve as the "eyes, ears, and voices" of local residents and taxpayers to monitor the expenditures of Measure G funds. The COC reviews the progress of implementing the college's Facilities Master Plan and will report their findings annually to the Board of Trustees and to you, the public.

Statement of findings based on COC review, of independent financial and performance audits.

The District has received and the COC has reviewed the financial and performance audit for the Measure G Bond Construction Fund for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2007. Vicenti, Lloyd & Stutzman, LLP, an independent auditing firm, prepared the report to comply with Proposition 39 accountability within the California Constitution. Vicenti, Lloyd & Stutzman "have examined the Citrus Community College District's compliance with the performance requirements for the Proposition 39/Measure G General Obligations Bonds for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2007, under the applicable provisions of Section 1(b)(3)(C) of Article XIII A of the California Constitution and Proposition 39 as they apply to the Bonds and the net proceeds thereof," and stated, "In our opinion, the Citrus Community College District complied, in all material respects, with the aforementioned requirements for the fiscal year." Furthermore, they concluded that the District "has properly accounted for the expenditures in the Bond Construction Fund and that such expenditures were made on authorized bond projects" with no funds expended for salaries of school administrators or other operating expenditures.

Summary

All expenditures authorized by Measure G and funded by the Bond Construction Fund have been reviewed by the Citizens Oversight Committee to ensure the money is spent only on facility improvements as required by Proposition 39. All funds expended from Measure G will be audited annually by the independent accounting firm, Vicenti, Lloyd & Stutzman, LLP. The COC has reviewed expenditures and projects, and finds the District is in compliance with the requirements of Article XIII A Section 1(b)(3) of the California Constitution and consistent with the District's approved Measure G local bond measure.

Brief history of Measure G

On March 2, 2004, voters in the Citrus Community College District approved Measure G, a $121 million facilities construction bond measure, to prepare local students for transfer to four-year college, to train local residents for high-skilled jobs, and to provide life-long learning opportunities for all by implementing a comprehensive facilities master plan.

Facilities improvements to be funded by Measure G were identified over more than two years of work by Citrus College faculty, staff, students, community residents with facilities planning, design, and construction professionals. The result of their work is a comprehensive Facilities Master Plan. To be implemented over the next eight to ten years, the master plan provides a cost-effective "road map" to achieve high quality instruction facilities required to accommodate the future academic and enrollment needs of our communities.

About a Proposition 39 Bond Measure

Measure G was presented to voters under the provision of Proposition 39, stipulating that at least 55 percent of voters approve a measure for its passage. As a requirement of this type of ballot measure, an independent citizens oversight committee must be appointed. By statute, the committee must include a member of the business community, an active member of a senior citizens organization, an enrolled student active in a community college group, a member of the college's foundation or other support organization, and two members representing the community at large. All committee members serve in an uncompensated capacity for terms of one or two years, and not exceeding two consecutive two-year terms. No committee members may be college district employees or officials, or vendors, contractors or consultants to the college district.

Plans are underway for a new facility housing Fine Arts, Communications and Photography.

Measure G Project Highlights

Central Plant—Completed and fully operational in June 2007

- Provides Citrus College centralized heating & air-conditioning from a single source
- Transfers energy usage from daytime to nighttime
- Significantly reduces maintenance costs
- Results in thousands of dollars in estimated energy savings per year
- In addition to Measure G funds, construction of the Central Plant was supplemented by a grant and energy savings incentive, totaling more than $300,000.
